

Begin by writing four different numbers into the four circles on each of the outer corners. Fill in the outer squares by subtracting the smaller number from the larger number on each corner. Continue working toward the center, subtracting the corners. What patterns do you see? Can you get to the middle without a difference of zero?